

Dear Retailer,

Strategy & Tactics Press publishes three magazines: Strategy & Tactics, World at War and Modern War. Strategy & Tactics covers the entire timeline of military history from ancient battles to modern conflicts. World at War looks at all aspects of World War II. Modern War focuses on the Cold War period through current events and potential near future conflicts.

Each magazine also publishes a premium Game Edition that includes a complete game on the same topic as the cover feature. These games give readers the opportunity to play the history to better understand how history unfolded and whether they can match or do better than the historical outcomes. The games come with a map of the battlefield terrain, counters to represent the forces involved, and rules to play the game.

We have several programs for getting started with these games and we would be happy to discuss your unique customer base so we can recommend a mix with high performance potential.

Most issues retail for $29.99, while Special Editions (one every seventh issue) retail for $49.99.
